

I am alarmed by the encircling of control of broadcast ownership by fewer and fewer parties. An informed public is not possible if only the few control our attention through the power of media. We need expanded diversity of opinion, not less.